

Dobranotch

is an internationally acclaimed klezmer band, now based in Germany, originally from Saint Petersburg, Russia. For over 25 years, the band has been a driving force in the klezmer revival movement, bringing fresh energy and authenticity to this rich musical tradition.

Sound of Dobranotch is a vibrant fusion of klezmer with Russian, Romani, Middle Eastern, Ukrainian, and Caucasian folk styles - infused with contemporary rhythms, yet always rooted in the raw, acoustic spirit of a traditional klezmer wedding orchestra.

With performances in more than 20 countries and 11 albums to their name, Dobranotch has earned a global reputation. Their music has been featured in films, documentaries, and TV productions, and they've garnered several prestigious accolades, including:

Eiserner Eversteiner (Folkherbst Winner) – Audience Choice Award German Record Critics' Award – Best Folk Album Russian World Music Award – Best World Music Project

On the stage of a philharmonic hall, Dobranotch captivates as refined artists; in clubs and at festivals, they ignite the crowd into a dancing trance. Offstage, they become the soundtrack to a magical carnival.

In 2022, following the Russian invasion of Ukraine, the members of Dobranotch made the difficult decision to leave Russia. They have since regrouped in Germany, forming a new international lineup and continuing their musical journey.
